BATH SALTS KILL

No, not the stuff you put in the tub. This is a dangerous drug sold in smoke shops, gas stations and online as "bath salts." The package is labeled "not intended for human consumption," but the powdery substance can be snorted, smoked, or injected. The effects are similar to methamphetamines and cocaine. "Bath salts" can cause agitation, anger, an intense high, euphoria, extreme energy, hallucinations, insomnia, and death.
